Thursday, April 24, 2014
12:30 - 1:30 p.m. • Lunch will be served at noon
Touro Law Center, Faculty Conference Room (FCR)
A networking social will follow until from 1:30 - 2:00 p.m.

Topic: The third of three panels showcasing the breadth of land use and sustainable development careers on Long Island, this panel will examine equitable housing aspects of downtown revitalization development projects on Long Island. Come explore the role of equitable housing lawyers and advocates in the community revitalization projects that literally shape where we live and work.

Panel: The panel will include a representative from the equitable housing public interest community, developers, and representatives from local planning agencies and other municipal representatives from the Towns and Villages of Babylon, Brookhaven, Islip and/or Patchogue.

Co-sponsors:
- Land Use & Sustainable Development Law Institute
- Career Services Office
- Real Estate Law Society
- Black Law Students Association (BLSA)
- Latino/a American Law Students Association (LALSA)
- Public Interest Law Organization of Touro (PILOT)
- Immigration Law Society

You MUST register for this event through Symplicity:
https://law-touro-csm.symplicity.com/students
(click on the “Events” tab toward the top of the page and choose this event).

Follow each session live on Twitter at #LandUseIs
Be sure to follow us on Twitter at: @TouroLawLandUse
Blog: http://tourolawlanduse.wordpress.com